

Addison Group calms the chaos with trustworthy talent for private research university

A private research university in the D.C.-Maryland-Virginia area had multiple openings in its Accounts Payable (AP) department after it was determined that a small group of employees engaged in practices that did not align with legal or ethical standards.

Challenge

The DMV-based private research university was having insider issues with employees in its AP department, which prompted the university to terminate these individuals. Now, the university needed a team to process its AP and help maintain the status quo. The biggest challenge: finding people they could trust, and fast.

Solutions

The client partnered with Addison Group to find qualified and trustworthy AP professionals. Over a six-month period, our team placed a director, two managers, and four specialists with the client. Nearly half of the candidates we placed were referrals from Addison Group contractors placed with the client.

The talent we placed recouped millions of dollars for the client by identifying outstanding and missing purchase orders. Additionally, our partnership allowed the client to ensure their reputation remained intact and maintained smooth internal

The Addison Group difference

We know that great teams start with great people.

That means we focus on quality, not quotas. It means that we're laser-focused on seeing candidates beyond their resumes to understand their goals and make sure they align with your mission. And it means working with you to get detailed insights into your teams so we can find people who fit, not just who's available.

No one gets talent like Addison Group.®
